Subject: Submissions : National Planning Framework

My name: Michael Molloy, [REDACTED]

My suggestion:

Put people in cities, end one-off housing.

Example: Limerick:

Encourage renovated residential property in the Georgian centre, including social housing.
Encourage more pedestrian space for humans to live in, IN the centre. Open space, squares.
Encourage business to locate in the city.

Every closed down shop should be purchased, and replaced with architecturally constructed apartment space, or office space.

Cafés and restaurants would naturally proliferate in such an environment.

People should live, work, and eat in the city.

For retail, they should go to the suburban malls.

Suburban rail

Limerick has a spine that goes from corbally to raheen.

On this spine, place a suburban rail system.

Cities should be for people. It's the reason we visit villages in france.
